

IGSA Sport Representative Policy

Updated December 2023

1. PURPOSE

- 1.1 The IGSA Sport Representative Policy is designed to provide girls enrolled at IGSA members' schools with the opportunity to access the representative pathway provided by NSW CIS, NSW All Schools and School Sport Australia.
- 1.2 Selection trials are for girls who show outstanding skill and talent in the relevant sport. Trials are not to be used to gain playing experience, or to reward good team players. Schools should carefully consider the ability of the girls they nominate.

IGSA Sport has very structured guidelines for the selection procedure as set out in section 3 below. This is necessary due to the vast depth of sporting talent within our schools and the need to be fair and accountable to all students.

To allow the IGSA Sport office to effectively administer and communicate the selection process, it is important that schools observe all the relevant guidelines, and dates for nominations, paperwork, trials etc. These can be found on the IGSA Sport website at <https://igsa.nsw.edu.au/>.

2. NOMINATION PROCESS

- 2.1. To be eligible for selection in an IGSA Sport team, a student must:
  - i) be enrolled and attending a school whose Head is a member of IGSA.
  - ii) be enrolled in years 7 – 12 and be under 20 years of age in that particular year. Please note that there are some sports specific age restrictions at NSW All Schools level that may prohibit a student being selected further.
  - iii) attend and actively participate in the scheduled IGSA Sport trials or carnival for the particular sport. Girls must be able to participate for the duration of the trial as partial participation will not be accepted.
  - iv) girls who are not available for all commitments and major carnivals should not trial.
  - v) exemption may be considered for a student competing in the same sport for a compulsory state or national level team or squad selection event. As a general principle, a student failing to participate in a scheduled IGSA Sport trial or selection carnival through injury, illness, family crisis, misadventure or school related activity, does not constitute a satisfactory basis for exemption. Requests for exemptions will be considered on a case by case basis.
  - vi) schools will be notified if an exemption has been granted and the effect this will have on the number of representatives eligible for selection at the IGSA Sport event.
  - vii) girls who are ill or injured should not trial and may be prevented from doing so unless permission can be obtained from a parent or guardian or relevant medical consultant. Even with parental permission, a girl may be prevented from trialling if the selectors feel that she is too ill / injured to do so.
- 2.2. An eligible student must also play a minimum of three IGSA Sport Saturday matches in the term that the Championship IGSA Sport competition is held that year. That is term 1 – badminton and tennis, term 2

– football and basketball, term 3 – hockey and netball, and term 4 – water polo and touch. These matches may be played in any of the sports offered in that term.

2.3. Exemption from this rule will be considered for students:

- i) when their school does not have sufficient numbers to enter any teams in the IGSA Sport competition in a particular sport. (Schools that enter teams in non IGSA Sport competitions will not be permitted to send girls to IGSA Sport trials; the representative pathway in this situation is through non IGSA Sport sport.)
- ii) where distance is an issue (PLA and NEGS only).
- iii) who nominate for Rugby 7s, as there is no IGSA Sport Saturday competition for this sport.

2.4. The IGSA Sport Staff reserve the right to not allow girls to attend trials:

- i) if they feel the students have not attained the required performance standard based on information submitted on the IGSA Sport nomination form.
- ii) if a student has failed to fulfil all their representative commitments in previous years e.g. not attending training, withdrawing with late or no notice.
- iii) if a student has displayed poor behaviour and sportsmanship throughout the current or previous seasons e.g. code of conduct violations, poor behaviour whilst away on a previous tour.

2.5. Schools may choose how many girls they nominate to trial. However, IGSA Sport will determine how many players from each school will be allowed to attend trials, taking into consideration the number of teams being selected, the total number of nominations, the experience of the players nominated and any other relevant criteria. Players without playing and representative history completed on the correct form will not be considered.

It is not necessary for schools to nominate any girls if they feel their players do not meet the required standard. Schools who nominate more than 2 students will be considered for S01 and J01 respectively when Saturday morning grades are decided. The students' playing position should also be given careful consideration.

- 2.6. All nominations must be submitted to the IGSA Sport Office, on the correct nomination form, by the due date as advertised. Only school Heads of Sport or the sport staff member in charge of a sport at a school, are permitted to nominate students. Nominations submitted by parents or casual coaches will not be accepted.
- 2.7. The IGSA Sport Office requires the full names, dates of birth, year group at school and playing experience from the previous two years. The correct representative nomination information for each sport can be found on the IGSA Sport website.
- 2.8. All students trialling must wear their school sporting uniform during the trial. Any student not wearing their school sporting uniform may be turned away from trials.
- 2.9. Girls are expected to supply all playing gear and protective clothing at trials and must abide by the relevant safety requirements as outlined in the rules and guidelines for each sport at <https://igsa.nsw.edu.au/> (e.g. helmets, shin-pads, mouthguards, gloves etc.).
- 2.10. Once selected, girls who withdraw from a representative team without a suitable reason, or sufficient notice, will be liable for all associated costs.

3. SELECTION PROCEDURE

3.1 Team Sports in which IGSA Sport Conducts Trials (i.e. Basketball, Football, Hockey, Netball, Tennis, Touch Football, Water Polo and Rugby 7s):

- i) In Basketball, Netball, Rugby 7s, Touch Football and Hockey where both 15/16 and under and Open/18&U teams exist, girls must choose which age group they wish to trial for if they are eligible for both.
- ii) All IGSA Sport teams should be announced on the day of the trials. In the event of selectors being unable to name a final team (e.g. too many girls at trials), a squad will be announced from which the final team will be selected. Only girls present at the initial trials will be eligible for selection in the squad. Any girl who has been given exemption from the initial trial must attend any subsequent trials and/or training sessions. In this situation, at least 3 extra girls must be chosen so there are several girls eliminated from the final team and not an individual.

- iii) Girls who are not selected in IGSA Sport teams are unable to trial as individuals at NSW CIS level.
- iv) All girls who are selected in IGSA Sport teams are required to attend the training sessions / carnivals. Failure to fulfil team commitments may result in exclusion from the team, or 'sitting on the bench' during competition matches.

3.2 Team Sports in which IGSA Sport does not Conduct Trials (e.g. AFL, Cricket, Golf, Softball, Triathlon, Volleyball):

Sporting Activities 2024

The Association of Heads of Independent Girls' Schools NSW trading as Independent Girls' Schools Association (IGSA) and its members' schools organises many individual and team sporting activities during the course of a year. Some of these are organised with IGSA Sport, a sub-committee of the Association of Heads of Independent Girls' Schools NSW (AHIGS), now trading as IGSA. Students participating in these sporting activities take part in practice and in competitions.

IGSA and its members' schools expect students to take responsibility for their own safety by wearing compulsory safety equipment, by thinking carefully about the use of safety equipment that is highly recommended and by behaving in a safe and responsible manner towards team members, opponents, spectators, officials, property and grounds.

IGSA and its members' schools also expect parents, spectators and other participants to behave in a safe and responsible manner, to comply with the IGSA Sport Codes of Conduct and to set a good example for the girls.

While IGSA and its members' schools take measures to make the sporting activities as safe as reasonably possible for participants, there is a risk that students can be injured and suffer loss (including financial loss) and damage as a result of their participation in these sporting activities, whether at training or in actual events. Parents, spectators and officials could also be injured or suffer loss.

Such injury can occur while the student is engaging in or watching a sporting activity, or travelling to and from the event. The injury may result from a student's actions, the actions of others, the state of the premises or equipment failure.

On some occasions, an injury can be serious (such as torn ligaments, dislocations, back injuries, concussion or broken bones). In very rare cases an injury can be life threatening or result in permanent disability. If a student has a pre-existing injury, participating in a sporting activity could result in an exacerbation of that injury.

Students could also suffer loss as a result of their personal property being lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed.

It is the responsibility of IGSA members' schools to ensure that all staff and volunteers undertaking duties at any IGSA Sport event have the required "Working with Children" clearance.
