Festival of Speech 2025

The Association of Heads of Independent Girls' Schools NSW, trading as IGSA (Independent Girls' Schools Association) organises many inter school activities with our members' schools such as Festival of Speech during the course of the year. In 2024 Festival of Speech will be held at MLC School.

IGSA administers and convenes inter-school activities such as the IGSA Festival of Speech in which many students, parents, teachers, volunteers, adjudicators, officials and spectators participate. Students participating in these activities take part in practice and in competitions.

IGSA and its members' schools expect students to take responsibility for their own safety by wearing compulsory safety equipment, by thinking carefully about the use of safety equipment that is highly recommended and by behaving in a safe and responsible manner towards students from their own and other schools, spectators, officials, property and grounds.

IGSA expects parents, spectators and other participants to behave in a safe and responsible manner, to comply with the Codes of Conduct and to set a good example for the students.

While Kincoppal Rose Bay School and IGSA take measures to make Festival of Speech as safe as reasonably possible for participants, there is a risk that students can be injured and suffer loss (including financial loss) and damage as a result of their participation in these activities, whether at practice or in actual events.

Such injury can occur while the student is engaging in or watching, travelling to and from, adjudicating or volunteering at Festival of Speech. The injury may result from a student's actions, the actions of others, the state of the premises or equipment failure (e.g. a collapsed stage during a competition).

On some occasions, an injury can be serious (such as torn ligaments, dislocations, back injuries, concussion or broken bones). In very rare cases an injury can be life threatening or result in permanent disability.

Students could also suffer loss as a result of their personal property being lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed.

It is the responsibility of IGSA members' schools to ensure that all staff and volunteers undertaking duties at any IGSA event have the required "Working with Children" clearance.

Draw Requests:

Any requests for students to participate in certain sections at certain time MUST be submitted when the original entries are submitted. #### Current Affairs Guidelines

Participation

Each school may enter one team comprised of three students, year 9 or above. (If a student is forced to withdraw on the day, the team may compete with 2 students and will be eligible for all awards).

Section Structure

- Current Affairs consists of two rounds the preliminary round and the final round.
- The preliminary round will be divided into three groups, each with a single adjudicator.
- Allocation to the three groups is random.
- For the preliminary round, teams will wait in a holding room until called for preparation.
- Teams must not leave the holding room without supervision.
- Neither coaches nor electronic devices of any sort (phones, laptops, smart devices etc) will be permitted in the holding room or preparation room.
- The two highest ranked teams from each of the three groups will proceed to the final.
- The section convener will advise teams of how the winners from each group will be notified.
- Each of the six teams competing in the final will be judged by a panel of three adjudicators.
- The six teams participating in the final will be competing for the positions of winner, runner up, and third to fifth placegetters.

Section Overview

Current Affairs is a moderated discussion exploring two different perspectives on a topical issue. The aim is to present and discuss rather than to debate or contest. The style is modelled on the ABC current affairs panel show "Q&A".

Issue Statement General

- Teams will be given an Issue Statement to which they must relate a current affair sourced from The Conversation in the six weeks leading up to the Festival
- The preliminary round will deal with an issue of national significance
- The final round will reflect an issue of international importance

• Whist the definitive guide for the Issue Statement is The Conversation, teams should explore other media publications to gain greater understanding of current affairs issues.

Examples of Issue Statements:

"One man's terrorist, another man's guerrilla freedom fighter" "Let the Rivers Run West"

Issue Statement Rules

- 1. a Teams are to explore two perspectives.
  - b. Teams should seek to provide sophisticated analysis and see different perspectives as being able to work synergistically and not just in an adversarial manner.
  - c. Teams should not present affirmative and negative arguments: this is not a debate.
  - d. There will be a bell at 10 minutes, 12 minutes and 15 minutes.
- 2. The Current Affair discussed must find its genesis in the Issue Statement.
- 3. No notes, electronic devices or bags are to be taken into the preparation room.
- 4. a The Current Affair chosen for the preliminary round must be on the national agenda
  - b. This includes the use of international perspectives to explore a national Current Affair
  - c. Teams should note that there is a distinction between the use of international opinions and examples for comparative purposes, and the use of international opinions and examples as the perspective.
- 5. a The Current Affair chosen for the final round must be on the international news agenda
  - b. This includes the use of a national perspective to explore an international Current Affair
  - c. Note that when students lead with an international element in the 1st round they must concentrate on the significance in Australia. In the 2nd Round this is visa versa if they lead with an Australian element they must concentrate on its significance internationally.
  - d. Teams should note that there is a distinction between the use of national opinions and examples for comparative purposes, and the use of national opinions and examples as the perspective.

Team Roles

The Moderator

- The moderator introduces the Current Affair under discussion, demonstrating the link between the Issue Statement and the Current Affair
- They must show knowledge of the issues involved
- They will structure the discussion, acting as a compere and interacting with the panel participants
- The moderator finalises the discussion
- As a model they should take the moderator's role of a Q and A style panel discussion.

The Panel Participants

- Should take a sophisticated approach to delivery, avoiding a "first speaker, second speaker" approach
- They must display an understanding of that Current Affair from varying perspectives
- The speakers should seek to express opinions in keeping with their perspectives, providing examples supporting their opinions
- While not a debate, the speakers should engage in challenging dialogue, modelling their presentation on a Q and A style discussion.

Presentation

- Speakers are to remain seated whilst presenting.
- The use of notes is permitted but reliance on notes is discouraged.
- Participation should be roughly equal across the three team members.
- While passionate presentation is expected, panellists should not adopt dramatic personalities. This is a presentation of ideas and facts, not a dramatic performance. However, the implicit adoption of personae, for example a journalist or politician, is acceptable.
- Section Conveners will make these points clear to Adjudicators during the briefing session and Adjudicators should take them into account when arriving at their decision.

General Guidelines

- Teams that engage in a debate should be severely penalised.
- The Current Affair chosen by the team must find its genesis in the Issue Statement.
- The team should present at least two perspectives. They should not present affirmative and negative views on the Current Affair.
- In the preliminary round, the Current Affair chosen must be a Current Affair of national significance. Teams which choose a Current Affair of international significance in this round, irrespective of the quality of their presentation, should be severely penalised.
- In the final, the team must choose a Current Affair that is of international significance. Teams which choose a Current Affair of national significance, irrespective of the quality of their presentation, should be severely penalised.
- Consideration should be given to the overall team manner. Teams have been instructed that they are to sit behind their desks, in a panel style, rather than standing. Teams that stand to make their presentation should be penalised.
- The use of the allocated time should be considered. Presentations that are under time or over time will be penalised accordingly. Teams which make good use of their time should be rewarded appropriately. A team that is under time will generally lack depth of analysis. Presentations that run beyond the 15 minutes generally reflect a poorly structured presentation, both in terms of content and time allocation between members.
- No written feedback will be given to individuals or teams however a document containing general adjudicator feedback, relevant to all participants, will be circulated after the event.

Time Limits

Preparation Time: 15 minutes

During the finals, the two highest ranked teams from each group will be adjudicated by a panel of three adjudicators. The adjudicators should give a brief summary of their decision providing general feedback and constructive comments for improvement where possible. While the rubric suggests allocating specific points for each element of the presentation, adjudicators should provide a holistic adjudication.

Adjudicators are asked to write a brief summary containing general feedback and areas for improvement which can be circulated to schools after the event.

Public Speaking Guidelines

Participation

Each school may enter one competitor in Junior Public Speaking and one competitor in Senior Public Speaking. In order to qualify as a candidate, the student must be present at the commencement time of this event and must participate in both sections of the event (i.e. prepared and impromptu.)

Participants will be penalised if they do not adhere to time allocations.

Conduct of Public Speaking

Each participant will be required to compete in two speaking sections as follows:

- A. A Prepared Speech on a subject to be selected from 3 5 set topics. Topics will be distributed to schools 6 school weeks prior to the competition and in 2024 will be the same for Junior and Senior Public Speaking.
- B. An Impromptu Speech. Participants will be given 3 minutes in the Senior section and 5 minutes in the Junior section to prepare a topic. It is understood that competitors will not use prepared material for this event.
  - Junior Impromptu Section: For comparative assessment purposes, the same topic will be given to all participants. They may bring the notes they make in the preparation room to the speaking venue. The adjudicators will provide the topic.
  - Senior Impromptu Section: Each speaker will draw a topic card containing three topics. One topic will be a phrase, one a quotation and the other, a word. The speaker will choose ONE topic only to speak on without the use of notes.

In the three-minute preparation time, planning notes may be made. These notes may not be used during the speech, but the topic card may be held whilst presenting. The speaker must refer to the topic chosen within the impromptu speech. The chosen topic will be announced by the Chairperson at the beginning of the speech.

Times for Prepared speeches will be:

SENIOR: 6 minutes, with a warning bell at 5 minutes

JUNIOR: 4 minutes, with a warning bell at 3 minutes

Times for Impromptu speeches will be:

SENIOR: 3 minutes, with a warning bell at 2 minutes

JUNIOR: 2 minutes, with a warning bell at 1 minute

Both speeches should be based on the topic, either directly or by suggestion. They must be substantially the speaker's own material, and should be suitable for the audience.

The purpose of this Section is for students to communicate their ideas to inform, entertain, persuade, or any combination of these. The speaker must present a speech, not an act, recitation or a comedy performance. Humour should be a means to an end, not an end in itself.

SENIOR Section

Students will be divided into 2 even pools (A and B). The entrant's order is determined at the discretion of the IGSA administration. Pool A will run in the morning session.

Pool A will commence with prepared speeches, followed immediately by impromptu.

Students in Pool A will be free to leave the event after the conclusion of the morning session. No comments will be given at the end of Pool A.

Pool B will take place as an afternoon session. Students in Pool B should register at the start of their afternoon heat. Pool B will commence with prepared speeches with different, but comparable impromptu topics, to Pool A.

Adjudicators will consider the event in its entirety. Results will be announced giving equal consideration to students in both pools. Placegetters may be from either Pool A or B. Results and comments will be delivered at the end of Pool B. Points remain unchanged.

Public Speaking Adjudication Guidelines

The Junior and Senior Public Speaking sections will each contain two segments, Prepared and Impromptu. Both of these segments will be adjudicated by a panel of three adjudicators. A raw score / 50 will be given for each segment. These scores will then be added together to give a mark /100. The adjudicators may then confer to reach a decision.

Adjudicators should give a brief summary of their decision providing constructive comments for improvement where possible. No written comments will be given on the day and the ranking sheet will not be available for perusal. However, following the event, a document will be sent to schools containing general adjudicator feedback and suggestions for improvement.

Participants to be advised they will be penalised if they do not adhere to time allocations.

The speaker should feel an affinity with her material and present it naturally. The piece should be fresh and spontaneous and should not appear to be recited. The following criteria will be taken into consideration:

eye contact

minimal or no use of notes

gestures

use of language

- clarity
- use of voice
- logical and ordered structure

Each speech should be delivered within or close to the time allowed.

2025 Section Conveners

Public Speaking Adjudication Form

To demonstrate versatility, readings should be of a contrasting style, although they should be linked thematically. Students are encouraged to be original in their choice of speech/non-fiction prose by a significant Australian.

Participants are reminded that they are required to read (not recite) a speech or piece of non-fiction prose, not poetry, in Section B of this Section.

The Adjudication Form and a typed copy of both readings must be handed to the adjudicator 15 minutes prior to the Section commencing.

For Seniors, each of the two readings is to be no more than 3 minutes' duration (i.e. up to 3 minutes for the reading from the religious text and up to (another) 3 minutes for the reading from the speech or piece of non-fiction prose). In other words, seniors should expect to speak for up to 6 minutes plus the 30 second rationalisation.

For Juniors, each of the two readings is to be no more than 2 minutes' duration (i.e. up to 2 minutes for the reading from the religious text and up to (another) 2 minutes for the reading from the speech or piece of non-fiction prose). In other words, juniors should expect to speak for up to 4 minutes plus the 30 second rationalisation.

Participants may take up to 30 seconds at the beginning of the reading to place both selected pieces in context and to account for their selection (the rationalisation). The rationalisation must be said not read and points will be deducted from participants who read their rationalisations. Participants whose introductions exceed 30 seconds will also be penalised.

Microphones may not be used.

Participants will wait for the adjudicator's signal before proceeding with either reading.

Readings Adjudication Guidelines

Participants to be advised they will be penalised if they do not adhere to time allocations and/or if they read their rationalisations.

The competition will be adjudicated by one adjudicator. The adjudicator should give a brief summary of his/her decision providing constructive comments for improvement where possible.

Readings should appeal to the intellect and emotions of the audience. Delivery and message should be directed to this end. The following criteria will be taken into consideration:

- suitability of reading i.e. it meets the contrast and link criteria, is appropriate for the audience, i.e. suitable for the young to elderly age range and that the selection suits the student's level of maturity and understanding
- voice
- confidence
- interpretation and general insight into readings
- timing
- whether introduction time of 30 seconds is exceeded
- whether rationalisation is spoken not read
- whether the pieces are read and not memorised and recited
- whether the pieces contrast
- whether the pieces are logically linked to each other
- Sacred Texts should be delivered with a measured pace, composed demeanour and reverently modulated

Each section will be marked out of 50 marks, with a total mark of 100.

No written feedback will be given however a document containing general adjudicator feedback and suggestions for improvement will be circulated to schools following the event.

Religious and Ethical Questions' Guidelines

Participation

Team Eligibility

Each school may enter one team comprising three students. It is suggested they be from the senior years.

If a student is forced to withdraw on the day, the team may compete with 2 students and will be eligible for all awards.

Punctuality

Participants to be advised they will be penalised if they do not adhere to time allocations. A team which is not on time for the competition will be considered to have scratched.

Article Selection

Each participating team will select one (1) article from the three (3) provided as stimulus material. Teams should concentrate upon the criteria for adjudication when preparing their material. The articles offered by the Section Convener will be based on contemporary issues that will invoke an exploration of the relationship between contemporary issues and relevant social, moral and / or religious beliefs. However, please note that there is no expectation that teams force a discussion of religion if they do not identify this as being directly relevant to the topic.

Material Availability

The reading material will be made available six (6) school weeks in advance of the competition. The questions are not provided to the teams in advance of competing. Teams will respond in real time as they are questioned by the adjudicator.

Presentation Rules

Teams will wait in an adjacent room before presenting. Coaches may not join their teams in the holding room.

Teams may not bring in notes, articles or other materials when presenting.

Each team is questioned separately by the adjudicator.

Team members may only join the audience after they have been questioned by the adjudicator.

Conduct of Questioning

Questioning Format

Participants will be required to answer a maximum of 5 questions asked in open forum by the adjudicator over a 10-minute period. All questions will be based on the particular article which the team has chosen to discuss. Team members will have the chance to consult one another before being required to respond. Teams should strive to manage their time so as to address all 5 questions with all members of the team contributing to the presentation.

Team members will have the chance to consult one another before being required to respond. The aim is for teams to engage in natural discussion with each other and the panel of adjudicators in real-time - not to confer privately prior to responding to a question.

Time Management

A 10-minute time limit will be strictly observed.

Team members must remain seated during their presentations.

A warning bell will be sounded at 9 minutes and a continuous bell at ten minutes. Teams will be penalised if they continue speaking beyond the time limit.

Article Selection

One (1) article will be chosen from the three (3) articles provided as stimulus material. Teams should concentrate upon the criteria for adjudication when preparing their material. It is expected that the articles offered by the Section Convener will represent significant contemporary ethical issues which will lead to discussion involving social, religious and ethical dimensions.

Criteria for Adjudication:

Students should aim to discover the relationship between contemporary issues and relevant social, moral and/or religious beliefs. Wider reading and research may be useful.

The adjudication criteria will be based on the team's ability to:

- 1. Understand the central ideas
  - a. Understand the theses of the article, i.e. the main ideas the writer wants to convey
- 2. Evaluate the Argument
  - a. Understand how the thesis is explained, defended and supported
- 3. Assess the effectiveness of the article
  - a. To what degree does the writer succeed? How effective are the chosen methods, examples, language, style, voice, etc? Where do they agree or disagree with the writer's viewpoint? Where do they think the writer was wrong factually, in emphasis, in any other way?
- 4. Explore Social, Moral and Religious Connections
  - a. Explain how the chosen article explores the relationship between sound social policies, moral principles and/or religious beliefs. Are religious notions used to criticize political or social arrangements? Or is the position reversed?

This section will be marked out of a total of 50 marks.

Religious and Ethical Questions' Adjudication Guidelines

Adjudication Process

The competition will be adjudicated by three adjudicators. The adjudicators will prepare 3 sets of questions (the same set of questions for all three of the articles?), 1 set for each of the articles. The set of questions for each article should essentially follow the same pattern to allow for consistent evaluation. The adjudicator should try to avoid asking compound questions. If a compound question is asked, it should have no more than two parts to it. The sets of questions should be submitted to the Convener at least one week prior to Festival.

Presentation and Questioning

Each participating team presents separately.

The adjudicator should not prompt team members for more information during questioning, nor give any indication of assent or disapproval as team members speak. No adjudication is given after each team presentation.

Final Adjudication

In making the final adjudication at the end of the competition, the adjudicator should give a brief summary of his/her decision, providing constructive comments for improvement where possible. There are 5 places awarded, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th.

Speaker's Soapbox Guidelines

Participation

Each school may enter 1 Junior and 1 Senior students. Names and outlines of speeches must be submitted to the adjudicator at least one week prior to the event.

Section Overview

Soapbox in terms of its original format (i.e. Speakers' Corner) was a place where speakers aired issues, with passion, on matters that were close to their hearts.

Students will identify an issue that they are passionate about, then stand up and deliver an original three-four minute "rant speech" to their peers, the audience and adjudicator, on a raised platform at an outdoor venue. If the weather is wet, an alternative venue will be provided.

Festival Soapbox welcomes light-hearted, unique and emotive speeches where pet peeves can be aired. Please note that this event differs from a highly persuasive, formally delivered, and structured speech.

This event requires students to craft a speech around a grievance or issue, in a persuasive and emotive manner. A solution may be offered but is not necessary. Some research and evidence of points raised should be expected. The rant may be serious but the event encourages light-heartedness such as: "Cats are better than dogs", "Neighbours should be required to put bins out before 11pm", "Why can't we speak in slam? (and here's my attempt - the rest of the speech is delivered a la slam)

Format / Presentation

Part A Speech – A three-to-four-minute pet peeve speech, being an emotive or "what gets my goat" speech injecting passion, persuasion and lots of personality!

The use of notes is permitted but reliance on notes will adversely impact the speech. The use of a microphone is optional.

Part B Two minutes of heckle questions -In line with the notion of the original Soapbox, heckle questions will follow the student's speech. The adjudicator will formulate two brief heckle questions to which the speaker must respond in an impromptu manner.

Responses to the two questions should be a maximum of two minutes (with no penalty for going undertime). Not responding to the heckle will reduce effectiveness of the overall presentation. There is no preparation time given to respond to the heckle.

Procedure

Topics, names of speakers, year group, school and outlines will need to be submitted to the Festival Adjudicator of this section, at least one week before the event. A link to an online form will be provided.

When presented to the school convener, student's speeches must have a coversheet stapled to the front or their speech including name, grade, title and a dot point outline of content. Offensive and highly controversial topics will not be accepted. Coordinators should be familiar with students' material and should collect it in time to pass on to the adjudicator, one week prior to the Festival.

Soapbox Adjudication Guidelines

Success of the rant is based on the student's knowledge of their topic, addressing any objections or concerns raised by the adjudicator and focuses on student's ability to maintain composure during the Heckle.

Marking

Manner: 30% manner. Effective use of voice including projection, eye contact, stance, gestures, tone.

Matter: 30% matter. Contributions will be judged on overall content, delivery, structure and overall impact of both sections. Humour, engagement, passion, and emotive language. Supporting material may indicate evidence or research.

Questions: 30% impromptu questions (Two heckle questions)

Impact: 10% engagement/ impact on audience. Points are up for grabs! By observation and anecdotal evidence (did audience applaud warmly, was there laughter/ audible positive reaction, were a few people nodding).

No written feedback will be provided, however a document containing general adjudicator feedback will be circulated to schools after the event.
